BAND DAY

FORT HAYS Kansas State College

vs.

SOUTHWESTERN College of Winfield

Saturday, October 12, 1957

8 p.m.

CIC Opener

Southwestern college, the darkhorse last year in the Central Intercollegiate conference race, is anxious to regain at least the runner-up spot it won last season. Last year Southwestern surprised the league by dropping Fort Hays State 7-0 in the conference opener. Seemingly unstoppable, the Moundbuilders went on to down Emporia State 13-6 and then—in giant-killer fashion—took the league-leading St. Benedict's 15-0. A 14-12 set-back by Washburn and a 7-7 tie with Pittsburg State gave the 'Builders a second-place tie with Pittsburg behind the conference champion St. Benedict's. In three games this fall Southwestern has a 1-2 total.

The Fort Hays State Tigers have just one direction to go this year after holding down the cellar spot last season with a 0-5 league record. And Wayne McConnell's gridmen are eager for the climb. In their first two games—repeats from last season's schedule—the Tigers equaled their 1956 win-loss record of 1-1. A tough Kearney, Nebraska squad racked up its twelfth straight victory with a 27-0 score over Fort Hays State in the Tigers' opener last month. The Tiger defense, however, looked much better than the score indicated. Last year the Nebraskans downed Fort Hays 18-6. Offensively, Fort Hays State wouldn't be stopped in its second contest with Northwest Missouri State at Maryville. The Tigers scored 40 points to win, but their defense was spotty as they allowed the losers 27. In 1956 Fort Hays State downed Northwest Missouri 19-13.

The Tigers have experienced trouble in their pass defense this fall, meeting passing threats in the first three contests. Coach McConnell hopes to combine his team's offensive and defensive abilities displayed in earlier contests with an effective pass defense in tonight's important conference opener.

WELCOME PARENTS AND BAND MEMBERS

It is always a pleasure to have visitors on our campus and today we are happy to have two groups with us. We are privileged to honor the parents of our students on Parents' Day once each year and give them a chance to know more about their college and meet the people with whom their sons and daughters live and work.

Band Day is a day to which we look forward with anticipation each year and it is a pleasure to have the bands from 36 high schools as our guests. I hope that the 1600 visiting band members have enjoyed their visit to our campus.

On behalf of the faculty, staff, and students of Fort Hays State, I want to extend to each and every one of you a very cordial welcome to this game between Southwestern College and the Fort Hays State Tigers. I hope you have enjoyed the day, thus far, and I hope these teams give us some wonderful sports entertainment to climax an enjoyable day of association together.

Come back to the campus often; you are always welcome.

Sincerely,

M. Cunningham

SOUTHWESTERN MOUNDBUILDERS

JOHN SAVILLE

GERALD CULLOP

These four 'Builders are all seeking their fourth football letter this fall at Southwestern. They were on Southwestern's 1956 CIC runner-up team and have been sparkplugs on the 'Builders' hot and cold squad this season. Southwestern started the season with a 32-0 win over Friends, then lost to Baker 19-6 and were surprised by a strong Sterling team 19-0.

OTHER SPORTS

CROSS COUNTRY: The Tiger distance runners started their 1957 season yesterday, traveling to Stillwater, Okla., for a meet with Oklahoma State University, Emporia State College, Pittsburg State College and Wichita University. Alex Francis, head track mentor, coaches the cross country team. The Tigers were runners-up in both the CIC and the NAIA meets last year.

GYMNASTICS: This sport, along with swimming, cross country and wrestling was inaugurated last year. Gymnastics practice is under way for the rugged competition which lies ahead. Since no other CIC school participates in the sport, Fort Hays State must seek foes in the Big Eight. Al Dunavan and Ed McNeil coach the Tiger gymnasts.

SWIMMING: Tiger tankmen started training last week. The Fort Hays State swimmers will be defending the CIC championship they earned in their first season last year. Dr. LeRoy Harper, head of the college's physical education department, coaches swimming.

WRESTLING: Practice is scheduled to start November 1 for the Tiger matmen. Coach Don Shaw, graduate assistant instructor, already has some men working out on their own. The Tigers meet no CIC wrestlers, but find competition from out-of-state schools. Last season the matmen finished with a 6-1 record and three firsts at the Missouri Valley AAU meet.

Junior Varsity

The Fort Hays State junior Tigers went into this week with a 1-0-1 record and an unofficial CIC crown. In the only B game played in the Central conference, Fort Hays State downed Emporia State 21-6 at Emporia Sept. 25. Last week the junior varsity played the Kearney, Nebraska B squad to a 7-7 tie. John Baker, graduate assistant instructor, coaches the junior Tigers.
